FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 23, 1876.

COL. W. A. HAWKINS writes a letter in which he declines to become an aspirant for congress in the third district. His reasons are purely private and professional.

THE editor now wrestles with the man who insists that "Miss Meta Phorical's composition is the best thing he ever heard"—and ought to be published, of course!

NEXT week there will be an avalanche of stall-fed roosters blossoming out in the democratic press, every chanticleer of the gallinaceous throng crowing for Tilden and Hendricks.

IT will not take many more days to show our cotemporaries that we were right when we claimed that one-half of the Georgia delegation to St. Louis favor Tilden. Listen for the vote next week.

THE Newnan Herald will pardon us for not carping at its jokes, but we feel constrained to say that as a journal it improves with every number and is already one of the handsomest and most interesting exchanges we receive.

THE Washington special to the Baltimore Gazette says: It has been well known there for several weeks that the sale of the New York World was made to western democrats, and since the adjournment of the Ohio democratic state convention has been gradually trimming for the advocacy of Thurman and Parker.

A DELEGATE to the Cincinnati convention arose and remarked with much vigor that the Chinese must not be imported into this country, because they were the worst thieves in all creation! At that point the presiding officer interrupted the speaker to announce that another delegate had lost his pocket book. The co-incidence was significant and was greeted with stunning applause upon the part of the spectators.

THE good work of rooting out the stubble in democratic usage goes on ...ith flattering success. The Missis- ...i democratic state convention at ...ecent session adopted a resolution ... the occasion for the two-thirds ... in national democratic conven- ...s has passed, and declaring in favor ...e adoption of a rule at the ap- ...aching St. Louis convention by ...ch a majority of said convention ...ll be competent to nominate candi- ...es for president and vice-president.

...IRAM ULYSSES is getting on the rag- edge and begins to read the hand- ...ting on the wall. He recently re- ...rked to a friend that he considered it of the most essential importance to himself, personally, that the republican candidate for the presidency should be elected next fall. The president intimated that he was convinced in the event of the election of a democratic president that the majority of the present house would next winter, under some pretext or another, impeach him The guilty conscience needs no accuser. We advise Ulysses to retire at once and seek rest in Canada.

FROM Washington the Baltimore Gazett's special correspondent sends the news that the democratic members of the house are urging upon delegates to the St. Louis convention to vote for Hancock. The secretary of the national democratic committee says that in his travels for two weeks past he has not met a democrat who will not vote for Hancock, while he did hear numbers say they would not vote for either Thurman, Tilden or Hendricks.

We believe there might arise a contingency opening the nomination of Hancock but just now Tilden is in the lead and promises with Hendricks, to sweep the field.

THE Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer telegraphs un- ...ler date of the 21st:

"Governor Hendricks has telegraph- ...d here that under no circumstances ...ill he permit his name to be used for ...e second place on the ticket. He ...ants the first place or nothing.

"Judge Davis has to-day made a de- ...ration declining to permit his name ...go before the St. Louis convention."

...We think the correspondent must be ...istaken. We cannot believe that ...overnor Hendricks will sacrifice the ...pes of party harmony and success ...cause his chief ambition cannot be ...atified.

THE Ellijay Courier has flattering reports of the progress which is being made with the Marietta and North Georgia railroad. It says:

"From a letter received from General William Phillips we learn that he has secured the fifty convicts to be worked on the railroad in Gilmer county. Col. Thomas F. Greer and others start to Atlanta for ...e hands to-day. We learn also that ...ickens has secured her fifty convicts, ...d will soon take them and put them ...t work. With Fannin county already ...work, this looks like business, and ...w we have every reason to believe ...t the road will be built; and we urge ...to lend a helping hand to this great ...erprise, upon the speedy completion ...which, to a great extent, depends ...future prosperity."

A VERY REMARKABLE CASE.

Strange Experience of a Minister's Daughter—Her Separation and Return to her Husband—What a Lawsuit Disclosed

ALBANY, June 16.—Henry George, a young Albanian, in moderate circumstances, married Hattie Clapham the young and pretty daughter of the Rev. William Clapham of this city, two years ago. For nearly a year the couple lived happily together, one child being born to them, but in April, 1875, Mrs. George began to see that there was a coldness springing up on the part of her husband. Remonstrance with him brought only renewed and increasing coldness, until finding such a condition insupportable, Mrs George demanded an explanation. Mr. George informed her that he had become a convert to the Shaker belief in celibacy, and felt that he was shaming God and himself by living in the married state. Repeated arguments ensued between husband and wife after this statement, but he held firmly to his opinions. Finally he told her that they must have a separation; that he must go to the Shaker community in Watervliet, a few miles above this city, and enroll himself among the faithful. To this, Mrs. George for a long time objected; but at length, having consulted with her friends, she consented to a separation without absolute divorce. George then went to Watervliet and entered fully into the practices of the Shakers, and Mrs. George, with her child, returned to her parents.

Matters continued quiet until last fall, when George appeared at his wife's father's house and begged forgiveness of his wife for his desertion, claiming that he had changed his views, was no longer a Shaker, and that he had only been hired by them to do certain work. She gladly forgave him and consented to live with him again as his wife. After a few days he urged her to return with him to the Shaker village, where, he said, he had leased a house, and where she could remain while he continued to work for the community. Without hesitation she agreed to go. On arrival she found that her husband was still in full communion with the Shakers, that no house had been leased, and that she was assigned to apartments in the houses of the sisters. George told her that he had never forsaken the Shaker faith, that he was as much of that belief as ever, and that desired her to become a convert also. On her refusal, he said that if she did not become one she and her baby would have to go to the poor house.

Mrs. George wrote to her father, recounting the circumstances, and requested his aid. He replied promptly by visiting Watervliet and again taking his daughter to his home. He also made a demand for some furniture which Mrs. George had taken with her, but George refused to deliver this up, claiming that it was his property as belonging to his wife. Mr. Clapham in reply showed the deed of separation, agreeing that Mrs. George should have the turniture, but this George said had been vitiated by his subsequent cohabitation with her. Mr. Clapham appealed to the courts here, and yesterday a replevin writ was granted him upon which to recover the furniture, and in the hearing of which this story came out. George did not appear at the trial, and the suit went against him by default.

Mrs. George said that while the Shakers did not urge her to become a convert during her residence among them, they said they hoped her conscience would impel her to that course.

During her stay they told her that her husband, if guilty of what she charged him with, should not be allowed so remain a moment in the society, but subsequently changed their minds and declared that they would keep him forever as a member of the society, notwithstanding his violation in his resumption of marital relations with her of one of the cherished rules of the society.

Mrs. George is a young and prepossessing woman, and does not appear to be much heart-broken at the loss of such a husband.

TAMMANY AT ST. LOUIS.

Going West by a Fast Train on the Central.

New York World.

Arrangements for the visit of the Tammany delegation to St. Louis have been completed, and the delegates, accompanied by from 350 to 400 of their friends—all leading representatives of the party in this city—will leave for that city by the eight o'clock train of the New York Central road next Friday evening, and will, it is expected, reach St. Louis by one o'clock Sunday afternoon via the Toledo, Wabash and Western road. The delegation will occupy the new Wagner palace cars, which will be handsomely decorated with flags and be pulled by a new locomotive. The train is to have the right-of-way over the whole route, and will, it is believed, make the quickest time ever made between this city and St. Louis. The delegates and their companions will meet at Tammany hall at six o'clock Friday evening, and march to the grand central depot. Mr. Edward L. Donally, treasurer of the Tammany general committee, arrived at St. Louis yesterday, and will make arrangements for having the delegation provided with all necessary accommodations at the Lindell House. Augustus Schell, chairman of the democratic national committee, which meets at St. Louis Monday next, John Kelly, ex-Congressman W. R. Roberts, Frederick Smyth, Hugh Donnelly, Alderman Tuomey and several others left for that city by the eight o'clock train of the New York Central road last evening. It is expected that the total number of Tammany democrats from this city at St. Louis will not be less than 500, some of whom will make their headquarters at the Southern hotel. Prominent democrats throughout the state who are opposed to the nomination of Mr. Tilden will meet at Albany, Rochester and Buffalo to-morrow, and will reach St. Louis on Saturday.

The Tammany aldermen held a meeting after the adjournment of the board yesterday and resolved to leave for St. Louis either on Thursday or Friday. They will be accompanied by some friends who have expressed a desire to attend them on their journey.

The Young Men's Democratic club, of which Commissioner Townsend Cox is president, met last evening at 17 Union Square, and made arrangements for sending a delegation of twenty-five to represent the club at the St. Louis gathering of the democratic clans. The delegation will work as a unit for the nomination of Gov. Tilden. They will leave for St. Louis on Friday, and will meet at the rooms of Mr. Charles F. McLean counsel to the police board of this city, at the Southern hotel, on Sunday. Mr. Edward Cooper, who is a member of the club, will probably accompany the delegation with a large representation in the interest of Gov. Tilden.

A prominent democrat of this city yesterday offered to bet $250 to $500 that he would name three persons from whom the St. Louis candidates for president and vice-president would be chosen The bet was accepted, the money put up, and the gentleman named Thomas A. Hendricks, Joel Parker and General Hancock.

Crop Notes.

—Augusta Chronicle: The damage by the recent freshet is estimated at $100,000 to $200,000. Corn and cotton crops on bottom lands were totally destroyed. Fields will have to be plowed over again and replanted, with the additional disadvantage that the stock is worn out, having already planted one crop. One farmer had two hundred acres in corn and Hungarian grass, which cost him fifteen dollars per acre. All of this is lost.

—Perry Home Journal: Corn is looking well—stand usually good, well worked out, and growing rapidly. Oats have been garnered and the yield proved satisfactory. Cotton is doing very well sugar cane is reported as extraordinarily fine. A larger area than usual has been planted in sweet potatoes and this valuable crop for man and beast is in an excellent condition.

—Talbotton Standard: Crops are steadily improving. A Mr. Ryall NcClung, of this county has tobacco that is four feet high and measures four feet from tip to tip of the leaves. Mr. C. H. Mathews, one of our Talbot county farmers planted twelve bushels of wheat on about as many acres and gathered a crop of two hundred and twenty bushels from it. Corn is being laid by and is looking well. Wheat harvested, a fair yield reaped. We know one farmer who made twenty-five two horse wagon loads of wheat from fifteen acres of sandy land, without any fertilizing.

—Milledgeville Recorder: Dr. Jas. W. Herty thrashed out 250 bushels of oats raised on five acres of land—one acre of which, (measured,) yielded 54 bushels.

—Talbotton Standard: Crops in Marion county are fine. Almost every farmer has sown largely of wheat, rye and oats. I never saw but little rye until I came here. The leading farmer of this county, has about one hundred acres of this excellent grain. It is very fine. During plough-time he feeds his stock almost entirely on it. Oats are very fine. A great many have been sown, and there will be a large quantity raised. Wheat was injured very badly by rust. But little more than half a crop will be realized. Another prominent feature of the redeeming stamp, found here, is hogs. All the first men of the county are raising their own meat at home. I know of one man who has at least seventy fine shoats.

—Lumpkin Independent: The peach crop and apple crop are an entire failure.

—Dawson Journal: Mr. Wright Merritt the old gentleman who carries the mail from here to Morgan, says 100 acres of oats for every mile between Dawson and Morgan within sight of the road, were planted last fall, and that they are the finest he ever saw. The farmers along the road, without a single exception, saved their oats in good order. He also informs us that he has lived in Calhoun county for 40 years, and never within his knowledge did corn and cotton look better at this season of the year.

—Lawrenceville Herald: Wheat crop almost an entire failure. Corn and cotton are very promising. Oats are looking fine, and unless they are injured by rust or a storm, we may safely calculate upon a fine yield.

—Eastman Times: James Bohannon, sr., has fives acres in corn that will average 60 bushels per acre.

—Quitman Reporter: In Berrien county the crops generally are fine. Old settlers told us that the crops were more promising than they had been in ten years. Large provision crops are planted, while king cotton occupies but a subservient place among them. We saw corn at several places that at present bids fair to make from thirty to forty bushels per acre. Rice is planted more extensively than in Lowndes or Brooks counties. We saw eight and ten acre fields in a fine growing condition.

—Sandersville Herald: In Emanuel county grain generally harvested and housed, and is abundant. Corn is rather small, but promises well. Cotton is unusually fide.

—Dawson Journal: The condition of crops is generally good, as all know, an immense crop of oats has been made and harvested which is said by the oldest of our citizens, to be the finest ever raised in this country. Corn is very fine indeed—never looked more promising at this season of the year. Larger area planted than usual. Cotton, too, is very promising, and it is believed that a good crop will be made. An unusually large area of cane, millet, rice, peas, potatoes, etc., has been planted, all of which looks well. Some farmers will raise meat enough to do them another year, if no disaster befall their hogs.

—Quitman Reporter: Crops of all kinds in Dooly county are looking fine and promising, and cotton especially is said to be better than it was ever known to be at this time of year. There is considerable more corn planted this year than was last, and I hear that hands have worked better and given their employers less trouble than they have for the past few years. I notice great many farmers have been experimenting with wheat, and have met with satisfactory results. The hogs are dying with the cholera, which causes the farmers to assume their "hard time faces."

—Monroe Advertiser: The wheat crop is yielding not much more than one half of what was expected from it a few weeks since. The oat crop is splendid, some farmers think they will get a yield of near one hundred bushels per acre. The corn and cotton crops are very promising. The plants are vigorous and large enough. The critical period of corn making is yet to be passed through, but if three or four more good rains come at the proper time, the supply of corn will be the most ample for many years past. Cotton is growing finely, the stand is very good, and altogether the prospect for a large crop of the fleecy staple is flattering. From Dr. L. B. Alexander who has just returned from a visit to his plantation in Houston county, we learn that the crop prospect is as good or better than for years. Corn is very promising, cotton will average from knee high to waist high, is growing finely and is fruiting plentifully. The farmers are much encouraged, and if the caterpillar and other deadly foes will hold off for one year the people will come very near seeing through the gloom that has surrounded them for a long time. The negroes are working well, having fully realized that they can make more by digging the ground than by neglecting their crops and devoting their attention to politics.

NOTICE TO THE RUPTURED!

Dr. J. A. Sherman respectfully notifies the public that in consequence of his unparalleled success in the relief and cure of Rupture, for the past thirty years, certain unprincipled persons are traveling about the country imposing upon the afflicted, under the pretence of having been his assistant and understanding his method. He has heretofore employed several Germans as mechanics and assistants in keeping his books, and helping with his extensive correspondence, who proved dishonest, carrying away his property to open business for themselves. In some instances they were discovered and large quantities of his property regained. The unwarranted and extensive use of Dr. Sherman's name by these shameless fellows as a subterfuge by which to delude the afflicted, makes it his imperative duty to put the public on their guard. It is a well settled fact that those who are dishonest with confiding employers will practice their dishonesty to an unlimited extent towards unsuspecting strangers. Dr. Sherman has no agents, nor has he ever given any one much less these charlantans, instructions in his method of treating Rupture. Their only capacity consists in impudence and presumption. They use Dr. Sherman's advertisements, extract from his book and show photographs of his patients, the more successfully to delude and deceive those who chance to fall into their hands.

DR. SHERMAN,

further has the pleasure of announcing to the citizens of Atlanta and vicinity, that he will soon visit them, thus giving the Ruptured an opportunity of consulting him in person and availing themselves of his assistance and remedies.

YESTERDAY we recorded the death of an excellent Christian woman, and today we chronicle that of an esteemed minister of the gospel.

THE gubernatorial contest grows lively. All sections of the state seem to be manifesting increasing interest in the matter. This is as it should be. In this way the people can alone secure good men to manage the affairs of the state.

THE CONSTITUTION exceedingly regrets the sharp local contest occurring to-day, but as it is a matter past remedy, we sincerely hope every true democrat will go to the polls and participate in the primary election of his party for its good.

THE news from the growing crops is good from almost every section of the state. We trust our bretheren of the weekly press will keep us informed as to their immediate localities. Georgia's greatest interest now is in a great crop, especial of provisions.

THE Young Men's Christian association meeting last night at the Central Presbyterian church was largely attended—indeed the house was full. We are glad to note this interest in so useful and noble an organization. An account will be found on our local page.

WE warn our citizens to look to the purity of the water about their premises this summer. A great amount of sickness during the summer months is surely traceable to the use of water containing impurities. Look to your wells that no impure drainage runs into them.

THE Air-Line railroad track is in splendid condition, despite the late heavy rains in the mountains. Major Peck and Messrs. Calhoun and Sage came in on a special train yesterday noon, ahead of the lightning express, and made about the fastest run ever known on that line. A newspaper man who was on board reports that they made 92 miles in 62 minutes. He probably meant 62 seconds.

COVINGTON STAR: The hue and cry raised by our South Georgia contemporaries about moving the state capital back to Milledgeville is about the deadest issue we know of. It is thinner than corn meal gruel, and don't "go down" with the people with any better relish. You had better save your breath, gentlemen, to enable you to keep pace with Atlanta's growth and enterprise, for you'll never get the capital away from her.

AGAIN we urge upon the democrats of Fulton to keep down as much as possible the excitement rising in regard to the selection of gubernatorial delegates to-day. Democrats should remember that their contest is with fellow democrats, and it is not conducive to harmony and good feeling to fight each other as they would their political enemies. We appeal for moderation and friendly rivalry. Any other course is injurious both to the party and to those who engage in it.

THE Waynesboro Expositor says the following good words, and its reputation for truth and veracity in the community is unimpeachable:

"The Atlanta CONSTITUTION has entered upon the ninth year of its existence. In that time it has obtained an enviable rank among the leading dailies of the south, and while we have honestly differed with it in some things, yet upon the whole we have watched its career with a degree of pride which attaches to every effort that Georgians make for the glory and fame of our dear old state."

THE Gainesville Southron is greatly at fault in charging that Judge James Jackson was in that city recently "to fix up matters a little in the interest of Gen. Colquitt for governor." Judge Jackson visited Gainesville for no such purpose, nor is he in any way interested himself in the present canvass. He is a high judicial officer of the state, and under no circumstances would he degrade his official position to political purposes. The statement of the Southron however, kindly made, does him great injustice.

THE president has reminded congress that it is putting the highest interests of the country in jeopardy by its failure to provide the annual appropriations within the time prescribed by law; and, adds a radical sheet, Mr. Grant is showing his usual watchfulness. Now, if Mr. Grant had reminded the radical members of the United States senate that they were doing this, he would have come nearer the mark of justice and right in the premises. This is truly a sweet game, but cannot deceive the commonest understanding in the country, though the radical press shouts itself hoarse. For the radical senators to block the measures of retrenchment put forward by the democratic house, and then throw the blame of the delay on the latter, it is the veriest humbug. It is entirely too thin. The trickery is even more transparent than that of Blaine the exploded.

GOVERNOR TILDEN FOR PRESIDENT.

The St. Louis convention is upon the eve of assembling. From every direction throughout our broad land democratic delegates are at this instant on their way to the place of meeting. The country is awaiting the action of this convention with an intensity of interest that is almost painful. It means honest government, punishment of corrupt men, and renewed life and vigor to a country depressed and impoverished with long misrule. A grave responsibility is resting upon the St. Louis convention. No convention before it has ever had such a solemn obligation resting upon it, and the earnest prayer of millions of anxious hearts to-day, is that it may be enabled to do what is best for the country and the people.

At this moment, the figure of Gov. Tilden of New York, is looming up far above all competitors as the nominee of the convention for the presidency of the United States, and it is the belief of thousand of able men of that party, that with Tilden as our leader victory surely awaits us. The strength of Gov. Tilden does not solely arise from the fact that he may be the candidate of a mighty party. He stands upon a platform far elevated above all questions of party. He is Tilden the reformer, and to the support of "the reformer" can gather all good men north and south, east and west, who desire an end to corruption, and a return to honest economical government. If nominated, Tilden is the candidate of honesty, and reform, and wherever a citizen finds rascality or dishonesty, let it be where it may, there he finds sufficient cause to make him a Tilden man, let his party be what it may.

The probable nomination of Governor Tilden is already becoming a thorn in the side of the republican party. So earnestly does that party dread it, that its organs are driven to a most singular line of argument to keep up their drooping spirits. We quote from the Inter-Ocean of the 21st: "There was in the hearts of the democracy fear of the candidacy of Blaine an account of the enthusiasm it would rouse; but the power to investigate remained, and, with the Mulligan letters, and the alleged railway speculations, it was assumed that the campaign against him would not lack for ammunition. It was believed that the republican party could be held on the defensive, and that Tilden could win as a reformer. Before Cincinnati, Tilden is the man, after Cincinnati Tilden is not thought of."

The above "quotation" contains a quasi admission relative to Blaine which to say the least is not complimentary to that gentleman, and which no one a few days ago would have dreamed the Inter-Ocean would make. The argument is that Hayes is a better man to run against Tilden than Blaine, for of Hayes' honesty there is no doubt, but Blaine's would have to be defended and proven. It is a comfort to know that the republicans, have at last nominated a man, in whose honesty they themselves believe. Generally this has not been the case. But whether Hayes be honest or not, he does not stand before the country as a reformer, and Tilden does. This element of strength cannot by any ingenuity be transferred to Hayes. The want of a record is at once an element of strength and of weakness. It keeps him from suffering from exposure as did Blaine, but it gives no assurance of the future. Tilden has a record. The canal ring thieves, now scattered over the face of the earth are a part of that record. The restoration of honest, economical government to New York, the impartial administration of law, and the prompt punishment of all law breakers, help to swell its proportions.

The republican party has been trusted time and again, and have miserably failed. During the last eight years that party has repeatedly put in office men with records, and men without records, and it is to-day no easy problem to determine which of the two stole the most, or stole the fastest.

In Tilden the democrats will present to the country a man with a record, but it is a record unsullied by the slightest speck, and which gives absolute certainty as to the future; one to which the honest masses of the country can point with pride, but which means swift vengeance upon all rings and thieves. Here is the secret of Tilden's strength, and here is the power which we believe can and will elevate him into the presidential chair. We do not know certainly what the St. Louis convention will do, neither would we presume to dictate to them, but there appears to us to be a ground swell for Tilden, extending from Maine to California. The cry that comes up from a depressed and plundered country, is for an honest, fearless president. Not for a president of a few northern states, nor for a president of a few southern states, but for a president of the United States. The convention will do well to hearken to it, and move slowly in this matter. To place this people under four years more of misrule, by inconsiderate action, would be a sin almost past forgiveness.

THE Rockdale Register comes rushing in at the eleventh hour and lustily joins in the centennial democratic hymn, as follows: "Give us Tilden and Hendricks, and hard money, and the word along the lines will be reform and retrenchment, and victory will follow."

After thirty-six trials we have at last received a copy of the Butler Herald which we can read, and we candidly say that when well printed it is a spicey and lively little journal. Here's to better ink, or whatever is necessary to keep up the present improvement!

LET every democrat go to the polls polls to-day, and express his preference. This is the only way to defeat cliques and rings.

HON. W. HAMP SMITH, of Valdosta, has left his family at the Davenport house, Toccoa City, for the summer.

EVERY democrat should to-day express his opinions by his vote.

THE summer resort journals are coming to life again.

THE Rockdale Register says that Tilden should be elected by acclamation.

"TILDEN AND REFORM."

From every part of the country is coming the cry from democratic ranks for "Tilden and Reform." We have seen proper to join our voices in the swelling chorus. Our idea is not that Tilden is the only man in all the democratic camp who can either secure reform in the administration of the government or that he alone of all the field is the man who can organize victory for the party. But we have said and repeat here that Gov. Tilden has had the fairest opportunity in the desire for administration reform in our civil establishments, that he has embraced the opportunity with a vigor which leaves no doubt of his honest intentions to protect the people from extravagance and robbery, and that the success with which he has reformed the administration entrusted to him is the surest guarantee to the people of the union that he is an able, earnest and practical reformer. It is such a man that the people want and are determined to have. As against the republican ticket this fact will outweigh all the boasted executive and administrative qualifications claimed for those who compose. Tilden is the surest reformer of all who are now before the country.

As an organizer of success, he is unsurpassed. The southern vote is certain to go to the democratic nominee, whoever he may be, and sixty-one votes are all that we ask the north, east and west to give us. Those votes must come from New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Delaware, Oregon, California, and Indiana. Can Tilden secure them? In the highest probability he can with greater ease and more enthusiasm than any other candidate command those votes. Then, who will insist that Tilden should not be nominated? Certain figures upon the question of the final result are, after all, the strongest arguments for his nomination.

THERE is a great deal of talk in radical journals about Hayes' luck in running for office. We hope that in these allusions there is no reference to the campaign of 1872 when Gen. H. B. Banning, present member of congress from the second Ohio district, badly beat Hayes in a district having a republican majority of 2,500.

A PICTURE of Hayes was posted at the Bazar yesterday. A party of persons were looking at it. Said one of them.

"It is too black about the eyes."

"He will have two black eyes after the election!" said another.

Big laugh all around.

THE GREAT ISSUE.

Stand Taken by a Corrupt Administration and a Partisan Senate—The People Demand Economy and Reform which They will not get from the Republicans.

RETRENCHMENT INDISPENSABLE.

N. Y. Sun.

The president has at last officially shown his hand in favor of all the existing extravagance by an impertinent message to congress and an insulting instruction to pass a joint resolution, prepared in the White House, continuing temporarily the appropriations for the present fiscal year. In other words, he has the effrontery to ask the house of representatives, after having reduced the appropriations for the coming year nearly forty millions of dollars, to undo this proper work, eat its own words, stultify its action and obey his orders.

The audacious interference with the duties and functions of congress should have been sternly rebuked on the spot by tabling the insolent message, or returning it without notice. It is not only unprecedented but is little less than an outrage, which can only be explained by Grant's ignorance of the elementary distinctions which separate the independent departments of the government, or by the obvious cause which has rendered that ignorance more dense and obstinate, and disgraced the office which he occupies but does not fill.

Of the twelve principal appropriation bills, ten have passed the house, one is now pending, and the other is to be reported immediately. Some of them were sent to the senate several months ago, and have been kept back or returned to the house loaded down with amendments restoring the old prodigality, with a view to the impending deadlock and to coerce the house into submission. The administration and the senate have combined to keep up the enormous expenditures, through which the great rings have been enriched, corruption has been spread through the public service, and the government has been converted into a machine for plundering the people.

The investigations already made demonstrate beyond dispute that a retrenchment of more than fifty millions is practicable, without in the least degree pinching any branch of the government. A reform to that extent would, in fact, contribute largely to the general efficiency by exacting a higher standard of qualification, enforcing accountability, and compelling a faithful discharge of duty. The house has stopped short of this possible retrenchment, and only reduced the appropriations thirty-nine millions in round numbers, as compared with those of the current fiscal year.

The republican has set its face against the correction of any abuses, and insists that there shall be no reduction of expenditures, no matter how much the people may suffer, or what falling off there may be in the revenue. A presidential election is at hand, and money is needed to carry it on. Therefore, the patronage must be retained, and an army of 94,000 office-holders kept on pay.

The senate, speaking for the party, has determined to resist every measure of economy, and has made its stand on the consulate and diplomatic bill, which the house cut down $428,437 50 from the present appropriations. It might have gone much farther, consolidated missions, and lopped off a large number of worthless consulates with salaries and without any living sign of commerce to justify them. The house allowed a liberal margin, but the president, the secretary of state, and the senate would not yield, and the bill, after repeated conferences, hangs suspended between the two houses, and a deadlock is threatened upon it as upon all others.

Mr. Kasson, of Iowa, one of the spokesmen of the administration, went so far on Saturday last as to declare, if the diplomatic bill was not passed by the 1st of July, the secretary of the state would telegraph to every foreign minister, consul and depository that their drafts against the government would be protested after that date. That is to say, if the house of representatives refuses to obey the dictation of the president, or to submit to the extravagant demands of the senate, the service will be stopped.

We hope the question may finally assume this shape, and go to the people as made up by a corrupt administration and a partisan senate. Nothing better is wanted. Then the country will see that the whole diplomatic service is a costly sham, maintained for the benefit of idle and incompetent, partisans, and without any color or utility. And what is true of that branch of the service is more or less true of all others.

Under our legislative system, the senate corresponds with the house of lords in England, upon which it was partially modeled. The house of commons represents the people and virtually controls the government. By a vote of want of confidence on any important question it changes ministries, and has absolute power over the public purse The house of lords would not venture to dispute the budget of the commons, and accepts it literally as made. Here, the senate exercises a power far geater than the lords in England. It not only amends the supply bills, but, as in the present case, threatens to defeat them all together, unless the popular branch shall abandon the reform policy upon which it was chosen, and surrender its independence. The issue between the two parties is very plain.

On one side are the administration, the senate, the rings, and the office-holders crying out for more money; and on the other are the people, suffering in their industries, impoverished by extravagance and taxation, and demanding relief. Every jobber, and contractor, and speculator and plunderer, and politician, shouts for large appropriations and huge expenditures. Every farmer, every mechanic, every laborer, and every good citizen ask for economy, simple government, and old-fashioned honesty.

The people look to the house with trust and hope, that these reforms will be adhered to at any cost. There can be no concession consistent with duty and good faith. Retrenchment is indispensable, not only because it is right and needed to stop the demoralization bred from prodigality, but because it is imperatively required by the diminished revenues. If the republican party is prepared to go before the country on this test, their opponents should overcome the issue. But in no event should the house grant one dime more than is actually needed for an economical administration of the government. The way to real reform is through strict economy. Platforms, resolutions and professions may mean nothing. Let us have a substantial remedy and begin a change for the better by good works.

Telegram to the Constitution.

OMAHA, June 23.—The following has just been received at the department of headquarters from Capt. Nickerson to Gen. Crook, dated Camp South Fork, Tongue river, June 18th, via Fort Fetterman, 23: We had a sharp fight on Rose Bud creek on the morning of the 19th instant, lasting several hours. Our loss was nine men killed and twenty-one wounded. Captain Henry of the third cavalry was the only officer hurt. He was severely wounded in the face. We won the fight and camped on the field. The Indians made the attack, and had a force they no doubt believed sufficient to whip this command.

A private dispatch states that Gen. Crook had a horse shot from under him during the engagement.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Official—Gen. Crook reports nine white men killed and fifteen wounded in the third cavalry, two wounded in the second cavalry, three wounded in the fourth infantry and Capt. Henry of the third cavalry was severely wounded in the face. The loss of the Indians cannot be estimated, but 13 dead bodies were left on the field, and many have been removed. Gen. Crook has ordered five additional companies of infantry and one of cavalry to report to his headquarters in the field at once.

LONDON, June 23.—A special dispatch from Vienna published in the second edition of the Times to-day, says that according to intelligence received from Belgrade, an order for the mobilization of the first contingent of Servian militia has been issued. Each brigade is to assemble in its station tomorrow. Next week an order will be pushed for the mobilization of the second contingent. At the end of the week, the army is to take its strategetical positions on the frontier. At the same time Prince Milan is to issue a manifesto to the people, and proceed to the army. As an intention to attack Turkey is still disclaimed, these measures, if carried into effect, may be meant as a demonstration, and a pressure to promote the diplomatic success of M. Ristic, the Servian minister.

LONDON, June 23.—A dispatch from Berlin to the Pall Mall Gazette says that Price Bismarck has gone to Kissengen for chronic inflammation of the veins of his legs.

The Kammergericht has consented to permit Count Von Arnim to go to Carlsbad unmolested, and to send from there a physician's certificate of his inability to undergo imprisonment.

NEW YORK, June 23—The general term of the supreme court of Brooklyn, reversed the decision given by Judge Dykeman in the case of Moulton vs. Beecher, argued at Poughkeepsie. This gives Mr. Moulton right to bring action. It is now Mr. Beecher's turn to appeal, and he can carry the case to the court of appeals.

NEW YORK, June 23.—The sub committee of the house committee on expenditures on public buildings arrived at the Astor House to make investigations into alleged excessive and illegal expenditures of $227,000 in the new post office.

DALTON, June 23.—The South Carolina, Georgia and Florida delegations are enroute to St. Louis. Personal preferences for nominations are not known. The delegates will support the most available candidate.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The treasury and navy are unrepresented in the cabinet to-day.

The banking and currency committee will vote on the resumption bill again on Monday, when Gen. Gibeon will be present.

Col. Scott testified before the judiciary committee confirming his letter to Knott.

A James Green publishes a letter assuming the responsibility of the dispatch to Caldwell. The committee will summon him.

The conference committees on appropriation bills are in almost constant session.

Curtis F. Barnum, second assistant secretary of the treasury has resigned.

Nominations—Chas. C. Waters, attorney of the eastern district of Arkansas; Towner Schley, postmaster Charleston, West Virginia; Sam Carson, Washington, N. C.; Thos. Taylor, Chattanooga, Tennessee.

GLASGOW, June 23.—Robert Napier, ship builder, is dead.

COPENHAGEN, June 23.—The government has received advices from Upper Navik, the most northern Danish settlement in Greenland, to March 31st, which state that the winter there had been mild. No communication north of Mellville Bay had been had since autumn. There is no news from the British expedition under Captain Nares.

CITY OF MEXICO, June 16.—The military situation remains unchanged. The pronunciads are said to have about 8,000 men, badly armed and provisioned, at Flaxita San Juan de Lonasplace, fifteen leagues apart. The government general, Alatorre, with 5,000 well armed and equipped troops, is at Apizaco at the junction of the Vera Cruz, and Mexico and Puebla railroads, ready to march to the relief of either of these places if they are attacked. Gen. Alatorre expects reinforcements from Gen. Escopeda's command at Matamoras by way of Vera Cruz. After their arrival he will commence active and vigorous operations against the pronunciads with a part of his forces. This will alter the situation considerably and probably give a death blow to the revolution.

The revolutionary chiefs in Oaxaca and other states treat foreigners with great severity, especially the Americans who are all in favor of a constitutional government. Gustavus Nolte, an American citizen, and three other foreigners supposed to be American citizens, were massacred at Nuneral. Dr. Guadalupe said the affair grew out of a private feud and was not connected with politics.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—The attendance at the exhibition to-day is apparently larger than usual. Hotels and boarding houses are readily filling up.

NEW YORK, June 23.—The run on the Dry Dock savings bank has ended. A considerable number of merchants of the various branches of trade, in addition to those before reported including Tiffany & Co. and Arnold, Constable & Co., have resolved to suspend business from July 1 to Wednesday, July 5.

BOSTON, June 23.—The schooner which arrived here to-day, passed a boat bottom up with three men clinging to it. The rough waters prevented rescue.

BALTIMORE, June 23.—In the ninety-nine years lease case, the court passed a decree directing the defendant, upon the complainants paying the renewal fine of two pounds and ten shillings, with all arrearages of rent due under the lease up to the time of such payment and costs, to execute a new lease of 99 years, commencing at the end of the original term of the lease at same rates. The court says it is of the opinion that any court of equity ought to grant the relief asked for and compel a renewal on the equitable condition stated in the decree before it. The court of appeals affirms the decree of the circuit court. The possession of millions of dollars worth of property is quieted by this decree.

Congressional.

Telegram to the Constitution.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—In the house, the committee on elections reported, retaining Jas. H. Rainey of South Carolina, in his seat. Adopted.

The sundry civil was resumed.

The amendment increasing the appropriation for lighting and buoyage of the Ohio, Mississippi and Missouri rivers was adopted.

The house non-concurred in the senate amendment to the naval appropriation bill.

In the senate, Mr. Edmunds called up the bill amending sections 24 to 25.

The enforcement act passed.

The senate insisted upon its amendments to the Indian appropriation bill.

THE REAL ESTATE POOL.

How the Scoundrels took in Young, of Georgia.

Washington Special to Chicago Times.

Pierce B. Young, member of congress from Georgia, whose name has been used in connection with real estate pool transaction in this city, testified to-day before the investigating committee, that he became connected with the pool through W. S. Huntington, formerly Cashier of Jay Cooke's national bank. Young consulted Huntington in relation to investing five thousand dollars in some enterprise. Hunt introduced him to Kilbourne and Latta who took the money and invested it for him in the real estate pool region on the northwest of Washington Land in that locality was then worth about 10 cents a foot. He never saw the property purchased for him or knew of its location. After this thing was shown up by the newspapers, Mr. Young demanded the return of his money by Kilbourne and Latta, desiring to disconnect himself in every way with their transactions. After a great delay, the original sum was returned to him, without profits or interest. He discovered, afterward, that the property purchased with his money and held by them in his name had increased in value to about $20,000. The opinion prevails that similar operations caused the reluctance to show their books that Kilbourne recently exhibited. Knowing ones, however, say that Belknap, Eldridge and Judge McArther were not treated in this way. They were too well informed, and had too much influence. It is believed the Indian commissioner suffered in the same way as young. He was more easily imposed upon. In this way Kilbourne and Latta have accumulated immense fortunes. Mr. Young emphatically denied any knowledge of or connection with the real operations or purposes of either of the real estate pools. He was brought into this one by the man Huntington, whom he trusted as his broker.

Wonderful Success

It is reported that BOSCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP has, since its introduction in the United States, reached the immense sale of 0,000 dozen per year. Over 6,000 druggists have ordered this medicine direct from the factory, at Woodbury, N. J., and not one have reported a single failure, but every letter speaks of its astonishing success in curing coughs, colds settled on the breast, consumption, or any disease of throat and lungs. We advise any person that has any predisposition to weak lungs, to go to their druggists, Hunt, Rankin & Lamar, wholesale agents, and get this medicine, or inquire about it. Regular size, 75 cents; sample bottle, 10 cents. Two doses will relieve any case. Don't neglect your cough. apr2—deod&wly

JOHN H. JAMES.

BY T. J. H.

Who is the man from honest toil,
Worked himself to worldly ease?
Who was the plow boy of the soil,
Who picked cotton on his knees?
John H. James! John H. James!

Who is the man with balanced mind,
Who steadily has worked his way,
Showing that energy can find
The goals of genius of to-day?
John H. James! John H. James!

Who is a friend to all the poor,
Who is a Christian tried and true,
Who scatters blessings at the door,
Who does that which few only do?
John H. James! John H. James!

Who is the man of honest birth,
True as steel in all his nerves?
Who is in good deeds always first?
John H. James! John H. James!

Who stands first in the hearts of men?
Who is loved by one and all,
Who should be our favorite, then,
Who should stand when others fall?
John H. James; John H. James.

Who is the man, a financier,
Needed now in our fine old state;
Who should sit at the helm and steer
The grand old ship of precious freight?
John H. James, John H. James.

Then rally boys, rally round,
Unfurl the flag with James' name,
The people's man has now been found.
Work, work, with might and main
For John H.James, for John H. James.

THE SUPREME COURT.

Felonies to be Tried at the next Term. —Cases from the Atlanta Circuit.

We publish below a list of the criminal cases brought to the next term of the Supreme court, where the crimes amount to felonies, also the cases carried up from the Atlanta circuit. The Supreme court will meet on the 1st of July, but the hardworked judges have decided to adjourn over from that day to the second Monday in August, when the business will be commenced in earnest. It will be noticed that not a criminal case of any character is pending from the Atlanta circuit. This speaks well for the orderly behavior of our citizens during the preceding twelve months. Usually this circuit has furnished more than its share of the felony cases, and the fact that it is now without any at all, shows that we are becoming one of the most quiet and law abiding communities in the state.

THE ROME CIRCUIT TAKES the lead this term in the line of murders. It furnishes two. The Albany circuit furnishes the largest batch of criminal cases, and several other circuits furnish a murder around. The cases are as follows:

BLUE RIDGE CIRCUIT.

William A. Ash vs. the State. Assault with intent to murder, Lumpkin county.

Henry Stephens vs the State. Forgery, Fannin county.

NORTHERN CIRCUIT.

Joshua Daniel alias Neal vs the State. Murder, Warren county.

William Meeks vs the State; murder Polk county.

EASTERN CIRCUIT

Thomas R Hood vs the state; assault with intent to murder. Chatham county.

Owen Guillfogle vs the State; murder. Chatham county

Jasper N Alderman vs the State; larceny after a trust. Bullock county.

George Williams vs the State; murder. Effingham county.

Isaac Russell, J P, vs the State; malpractice in office. Chatham county.

THE COMMISSIONERS.

Commissioners Buck and Smith released four prisoners from jail yesterday, who had served out their terms. Their names are Perry J Brown, John M Rice, Henry Hainer and M F Rice. These men were convicted of illicit distilling and sentenced to three months imprisonment and fines of $100 and costs around.

THE CITY COURT.

HON R H CLARKE, JUDGE.

Court met at its usual hour, and resumed the criminal docket.

State vs Sarah Stubbs, colored; vagrancy. Trial. Verdict guilty; sentence, six months imprisonment in the chain gang. W M Bray for defense.

State vs Lizzie Patterson, colored; vagrancy. Lizzie proved that she had recently got married, and upon this showing she was discharged.

State vs Jane Waller; simple larceny. Charge that on the 12th of June, 1876, she stole a quantity of cherries, apples and onions, of the value of $1 from William H Venable. Tried by the court and found guilty. Sentence, fine of $5 and costs or 30 days in the chain gang. Thomas Finley for defense.

State vs Walter Harris and Jerry Jones; larceny from the house. Charge, that on the 21st day of June, 1876 they entered the store of Charles Bangest and stole eight wooden pipes, of the value of $4. J B Goodwin for defense. Tried by the court and found not guilty.

Court then adjourned until half past 8 o'clock Monday morning.

The Mallory case was postponed because of the absence of H I Kimball.

The Kennesaw Route.

Owing to the increasing demand for accommodation by the great Kennesaw route it was found necessary to send a special train consisting of four palace sleepers, one day coach and two baggage cars yesterday afternoon

The regular train, comprising three palace sleepers, one first class, one second class, one baggage and express car, and one postal car left on regular time preceding the special.

The Kennesaw route carries the United States and the great Southern express.

Clothing! Clothing!!

To make room for fall and winter goods I have thrown the large remnant of my wholesale stock of spring and summer clothing into my retail store, No. 25 Whitehall street, and will close them out in the next sixty days.

These goods must and shall be sold
Prices will be made astonishingly low.
Call and examine.
I mean business, and do not wish or intend to humbug any body. My stock is new.

Death of Rev. R. C. Ketchum.

This most excellent man and servant of God died yesterday, and will be buried on Sunday. He died in full possession of his sense, and requested Rev Dr Leftwich to preach his funeral sermon, which we presume he will do at the Central church Sunday.

The Southern Masonic Female College.

A part of the proceedings of the commencement occasion of this institution failed to reach us, hence we had no notice of the fine address delivered by Mr. Sidney Dell before the two literary societies. His subject was the influence of Christian civilization on woman. He traced the history of laws bearing upon woman through the different eras, and showed what Christianity had accomplished for her, and what it had enabled her to do in return. The address is very highly spoken of.

A Dead Beat Brought to Grief.

G. W. Wilson is one of that peculiar class of people who prefer living upon the community to doing any work. Gentlemen who endeavor to exist after this fashion, generally find it difficult, and the occasions are not unfrequent when Wilson laid out without any supper. As his circumstances were becoming desperate, he concluded to try a little sharp play two days ago, and thereby got himself into trouble.

He went to a boarding house kept by a Mrs Montgomery, and told her that he wanted to board at her place. He also informed her that the following morning he expected in from the country, and that his board could be settled in chickens. This was agreeable, and everything passed along very smoothly until the morning. But breakfast came and no chickens. So also dinner. When Mr. Wilson was reminded of his board he changed his story a little, and now stated that his father was to reach Atlanta that afternoon and would settle all bills. The old man was as tardy coming as the chickens had been, and the land lady's patience becoming exhausted, she had Mr. Wilson arrested. He was tried before Justice McConnell yesterday afternoon, and now reposes in a place where no board bills are presented.

Funeral of Mrs. E. L. Jones.

The funeral of Mrs. E. L. Jones, wife of Mr. E. L. Jones, one of our worthiest citizens, took place at the residence on Oak street at 2 P. M., yesterday. A large number of our citizens were present. Rev. J. T. Leftwich officiated. Those present united in singing "Jesus, Lover of My Soul."

Rev. J. T. Leftwich read a portion of the 15th chapter of first Corinthians.

He prefaced his remarks by stating that the circumstances surrounding the occasion would not warrant any extended discourse, but he could not allow it to pass without bearing testimony to the worth of her whose remains lay before them. Hers was one of the first faces on which he looked when he first came to Atlanta, and he was prepared from the first to hold her in the highest estimation. She presented a letter from her former pastor, one whom he knew to be the soul of truth and honor, giving her an exalted christian character. Once when going to Macon he met a venerable servant of God from Milwaukee who spoke in terms of warmest admiration of her and her distinguished labor of love among the poor, sick and unfortunate. He had seen her in prosperity and in adversity; in sunshine and in storm; a happy mother with all her children around and her and on the brink of Jordan with her dying daughter; when ever and wherever he saw her he heard no word or utterance not worthy of a servant of the Lord. She was prominent in every good work in Milwaukee and was noted for her activity. She came to Atlanta with an invalid daughter which required her constant care, and she herself suffered bodily chastisement in the blight of her eyes and decay of her health. Though denied the privilege of active life she dispensed charity at home with lavish hand. Her abode became the fountain of charity. Her illness was marked by extreme suffering, but she bore it without a murmur and her faith seemed never to falter

When asked if all was well, she replied that she new nothing so well except that all is well. She remarked that she knew that her sufferings were severe, but that she has strength to bear it, 'I get strength," she said "by looking up.' All felt that it was an inestimable christian privilege to have access to her sick bed. Some one told her that all thought that she was nearly home. She responded "Yes, already I am beginning to see the things beyond, and it seems to me they are waiting and watching for me." She suffered on and about 7 o'clock last night "He gave His beloved sleep."

Her body is about to be sent to Milwaukie to be placed by the side of her children gone before. Now is the time of parting, in the future will come the time of meeting, where all the children of God, glorified in body as well as in soul shall sit down with Abraham and Jacob in the kingdom of God to go out no more forever

After a brief prayer by Rev. Mr. Leftwich, those present sang, "shall we gather at the river." The services were notably solemn and impressive.

The following acted as pall bearers: Thomas M Clarke, J B Campbell, Dr. S Hape, C F Simpson, W Goodwow, W H Smythe, H T Phillips, A E Buck.

The case was deposited in the hearse, and accompanied by a large cortege, proceeded to the Union passenger depot, and forwarded to Milwaukee.

Mr. E L Jones is a quiet, unostentatious but excellent citizen, and in this sad bereavement, he has the sympathy of all classes

Mrs Jones was an exemplary christian, and society and the church has sustained a heavy loss.

Off For St. Louis.

Yesterday afternoon a special train of nine sleepers left for St. Louis with some eighty passengers on board.

The following gentlemen composing the Georgia delegation left:

State at large—Gov. James M Smith, Hon. Rufus E Lester, Hon G T Barnes. (Hon J W Wofford joins them at Cartersville)

First District—J C Nichols, J J Jones.

Second district—H G Turner, E C Bower.

Third district—Allen Fort, W T McArthur.

Fourth district—Hon Mark H Blandford. (Obediah Warner already gone on.

Fifth district—Judge John I Hall, Hon E P Howell.

Sixth district—Col J M Pace, J W Preston

Eighth district—W G Johnson, C S DuBose.

Ninth district—H P Bell, Dr H H Carlton.

The delegates from the 7th district have already gone.

Quite a number of visitors left also. Among them we noticed Judge James Jackson and wife, Miss Rosa Johnson, and Henry Jones of the Augusta Constitutionalist. The South Carolina delegation, consisted of Gen. John Frattan, ex-Governor B F. Perry, Gen. S. McGowen, Col. J. H. Evans, Col. J. P. Hoyt, J. C. Sheppard, Col. W. Wallace and Col. W. Elliott. The other delegates, Messrs. Fickin, O'Connor, and Richardson, will go on to-day.

Exciting Interest.

It has been many days since we knew such exciting interest to be taken in an election as was manifested yesterday touching the nomination of delegates to-day. There was little else spoken of on the streets.

Third Anniversary—Large Audience Eloquent Address.

The Central Presbyterian church last night was filled with a large audience to witness the anniversary exercises of the Young Men's Christian Association. The presence of so many ladies was peculiarly gratifying.

Miss Stella Wright presided at the organ, with skill and grace.

The exercises were commenced by singing 'Savior more than life to me." The singing was sweet and delicious.

Prayer was offered by Rev A. T. Spalding, pastor of the Second Baptist church.

"Pull for the shore," was then sang.

President W. A. Haygood, read his annual message detailing the operations of the year. The membership is 325; the library has doubled and $500 has been expended.

The report says: "Through the generous co-operation of the Atlanta Benevolent Home, we have been enabled to enter, in a limited way, into the broader fields of humanity. We have rented and furnished with simple cots two rooms the Home feeding such sick or hungry men as we admit, free of charge. By this co-operative arrangement, 750 nights' lodging and 1,700 meals have been furnished to men and boys—the Home proper only receiving females. Nearly all of these have been actually sick out of money, friendless, and unable to go forward until well fed and rested for a few days. In cases of severe illness this association has furnished competent nurses. Three men occupying our rooms have died during the year. Two were buried at the joint expense of the Home and this association; the other by the Atlanta bar association.

This relief is not a premium on idleness. One gentleman returned to the Home money enough to pay his board while in their care. Others have written letters of gratitude having reached their destination and obtained employment.

In two cases only, as far as we can learn, has this charity been unworthily bestowed. This work of caring for the penniless sick is but poorly done, and must continue so until Atlanta has established a city hospital."

The president read a letter to Mrs. W H Tuller from one who dates his knowledge of Jesus to the influences surrounding him while at the Home.

"Let the lower lights be burning" was next sung.

Vice-president Eckford, then introduced Rev A G Haygood, D. D., president of Emory college as the anniversary orator.

Rev Dr. Haygood said he was happy to be able to say "I bid you God speed." He had watched the association from infancy with anxious hope. He was more interested in it since hearing the president's report.

The Young Men's christian association is no longer an experiment. It has lived out the life of an ordinary generation. There is room for it because there is need of it. It comes in the providence of God. It came not too soon nor too late.

The most noticeable acts of the present day are Sunday schools and young men's Christian associations.

Young men's Christian associations are noticeable because they are the manifestation of the awakening zeal of Christian laymen. Had Moody and Sankey 40 years ago commenced their wondrous labors they would have startled a Christian world out of its propriety. Had young men fifty years ago organized such an association as this, their fathers would have consulted to see if they should tolerate it. As a preacher I give God thanks and rejoice that good men from the field, the workshop, and the office can preach the riches of Christ. It is going back to the days of the Apostles. Godly women helped Paul. He who has tasted that the Lord is good can tell it to others.

The association is not a church—not a tumor upon it. It is a form of Christian activity that will not add to the asperities of theological disputations. It is an auxiliary to the church. It will help every preacher to preach; help every Sunday school, invigorate the prayer meeting; and give a new impetus to missions. We judge of it by its fruits.

It is an association. There is a power in associated effort. It is a young men's association, The young men determine the future of the church as well as of the state. It is a Christian association. This is an emphatic word, are you entitled to it? Ask yourselves what are your objects, and what your methods. Had Jesus a mission? He came to seek and to save that which was lost

You shall have your reward for visiting hospitals, jails and prisons. Your object is not merely to relieve want and suffering, but to win hearts to Christ. He exercises self-denial and do good is Christ's method. Is it yours? What are your relations as working Christians to Christ? Ye are commanded to "let your light shine," and are likened to a "light in the midst of a perverse generation." The original means window. Teach and live the truth.

Christian men and women can convey the truth to the people by using the hearts and hands of the poor.

All that A T. Stewart left of his millions, was a ship load of provisions to starving Ireland and $100,000 for the relief of the sufferers by the Chicago fire. Men who live to do good, become too great to die. They may sleep for a while, but they never die.

A prisoner in an Europ an prison saw but little light except a sun beam that at a certain hour of the day lighted for a short time a spot on the prison wall. He seized the opportunity of this ray of light to carve with a nail, on the wall, a figure of Christ on the cross. You may upon human hearts carve the image of a living Christ, and awaken in the heart new hopes of Christ. This benevolent home should be cherished and the rich men of Atlanta should rise up and endow it at once. How that letter read by the president must have cheered the heart of Mrs. Tuller. Cæsar's triumph, nor the homage paid the Empress Eugenie could ever give such pleasure.

An old legend has it that one day a monk saw a bright, dazzling vision of the God-Man in his cell. The convent bell rang to call him out to dispense charity. He wanted to stay but the bell called him and he went. When he returned the vision was still there and smiling said to him: 'Had'st thou staid I must have gone."

Twenty-four years ago he first saw Atlanta. Untold persons prophesied its failure. The war came, and at its close Atlanta was a mass of ruins. She is still progressing. As he came down he saw large crowds of young men in front of barrooms. He called upon all Christians to rally to the Y M C A. and bring every young man to its fold. Atlanta should grow in virtue and grace. He bid the association God speed and to all who prayed for peace upon your Jerusalem.

After singing "Only an Armor Bearer," the audience was dismissed with a benediction by Rev. J E Evans.

Interesting to Fruit Raisers.

As the fruit season is near at hand we venture a few suggestions to persons wishing to dry fruit. As we have been in the dried fruit trade many years, we think we know what is required by the trade to make it bring the highest prices.

BRIGHTNESS AND UNIFORMITY OF COLOR

are the most essential requirements to obtain the best prices. Unpeeled peaches cut in halves bring about one cent per pound more than if cut in quarters. Peeled peaches bring as much in small pieces as in large ones, and are more easily dried bright. Apples should be dried very thin to bring the best prices. To make bright fruit, cut it as soon as it is ripe, before it gets mellow or soft, that it may dry before it rots, it makes brighter fruit to cut it before it is thoroughly ripe and dries quicker. Do not mix bright and dark fruit together, as it sells better kept separate. There might be much money made by drying blackberries. We will buy all we can get at market value, most likely five to eight cents per pound.

Complimentary.

The board of trustees of Wesleyan Female college, of Macon, composed of Judge Jackson, Bishop Pierce, Dr. Mann, and others of equal note, passed the following resolutions complimentary to the address delivered by Mr. Richard S. Jeffries of Atlanta, on the 20th inst., in Macon before the Wesleyan college:

Resolved, that the thanks of this board are hereby tendered to Mr. R. S. Jeffries for his classical and eloquent address delivered on yesterday, contributing so much to the interest of the occasion and entertainment of the audience.

Resolved, that the secretary be instructed to transmit a copy of this resolution to Mr. Jeffries and request a copy of the address to be filed in the archives of the college.

And in their report the board of visitors said: The literary address of Mr. R. S. Jeffries of Atlanta, was chaste, unique and admirably adapted to the occasion "

Coming from such a source Mr. Jeffries could wish no higher compliment. We have also seen press criticisms which are very complimentary.

TOWN TOPICS.

—Mrs. J. M. Ball and Miss Georgia Ball left yesterday to spend part of the season at Crab Orchard springs, Kentucky. Our citizens are leaving occasionally for the springs and other summer resorts.

—We had a pleasant call yesterday, from the venerable Rev. J S Dodd, of Campbell county. He is a man of weight and power in the pulpit.

—The excursionists to Charleston Friday numbered about 500.

—Most of the students of the Atlanta (colored university left for home yesterday. A car load went down on the Georgia railroad. For the past three years they have gone down with that splendid conductor, J B Johnson

—Hon. A. O. Bacon, of Bibb, was in the city yesterday.

—Judge Hugh Buchanan, of Newnan, was in the city yesterday.

—A Newnan bachelor went Covington-wards last night. As the belle of the south was on the train his visit is accounted for.

—The zinc coffin in which were the remains of a lady 82 years old, swelled yesterday on the West Point train to inordinate proportions, and caused some uneasiness. It was forwarded to some point on the Air-Line.

—A grand excursion will leave West Point on the 27th for Tocoa. Prof. Halwick and brother, will walk across the falls on a rope, and perform many thrilling feats. The fare from Atlanta is only $1.50. It bids fair to be a huge success.

—Prof. Nichols soiree to his children last night at Concordia Hall was the last of the season. It was a success at every step and in toto.

Fire.

About 4 o'clock a. m., yesterday morning, an alarm of fire was sounded, which proved to be in the wholesale liquor house of O H Green, under the Markham House.

It was fortunate that the fire occurred at this hour, and not during the dead hours of the night, as it might have been quite an extensive conflagration From the inflammable nature of the stock, and the same being next door to Messrs. Longley & Robinson, merchants in the sash door, and blind factory, with a lathe and plaster partition, would have soon enveloped this new and beautiful building in flames, if not have endangered the lives of its inmates.

As, however, the fire was in its incipiency, and the fire department quickly on the spot no serious damage was done.

The fire was soon extinguished by the hose companies from the water works. Although over four miles of additional piping has been recently laid, yet the pressure was so great as to burst a section of hose which deluged the outer part of the Markham House and speedily set those in the piazza and windows to seek more congenial quarters.

The bursting of the hose frightened the horses attached to engine No. 2. which bolted as if a gun had been fired beneath their heels and made a dart for the engine house, much to the danger of pedestrians and those hurrying in direction of the fire.

The damage by fire was comparatively slight.

Important to Parents and Guardians.

MOUNT DE CHANTAL

Academy of the Visitation,

NEAR WHEELING, WEST VIRGINIA.

PARENTS, in quest of a first-class school for their daughters, will do well to investigate the claims of this celebrated Academy. For thoroughness in every department of female education, Mt. de Chantal ranks pre-eminently high. Great attention is given to perfect the pupils in writing and speaking French with fluency. For those sufficiently advanced, it is the language of their recreation hours. The purity of accent and correctness of pronunciation acquired in this Institution have been a subject of surprise to the native Parisian. The renown for the superiority in music is so wide spread as to have made this Academy almost a national one. One feature, in particular, that should recommend Mt. de Chantal to the sensible parent, is the influence exercised to form the pupils to views and habits of economy, and to render them really practical and useful women of society in after years. Simplicity in dress is enforced by rule.

These facts, united to the exceedingly moderate rates of board and tuition (200 per annum,) will we trust, secure to this school as large and desirable a patronage in the future as it has enjoyed in the past.

For further particulars apply for a prospectus to the Directress of Mount de Chantal Academy of the Visitation, near Wheeling, West Virginia.

CUFFY'S LAMENT.

Richmond Dispatch.

I take my banjer frum de wall,
I pick de big strings and de small,
And out dar comes in solumn straine
A reek-wum for de mighty slain.

Dar's Mortin in de bluddy shirt,
Dar's Hartranft sprallin' in de dirt,
Dar stiff an stark lies bold Bristow,
By too much honesty lade low.

De Jewel dat did use to shine
I look for but I cannot fine;
While Conklin dun shot and ope his eyes,
An' ded as enny herrin' lies.

But now de strings, deo give a wale
Dat tells uv all de saddest tale;
De great man from de state of Maine,
We'll never see his like again.
Oh, where is he? Oh, where is Blaine?

Dem Cincinnatti fellers sot
An' filled dar guns wid his own shot;
Dem blazed away, an' in amaze
Dey saw him go off in a haze.

Bleak blow de winds from state uv Main,
Cold am de snows and cold de rain;
But colder is de sad refrain
Dat sings de chilling fate of Blaine
RIENZO.

Keep the Liver Active.

The above is a sound health maxim. In order that the functions of digestion, evacuation and secretion shall be discharged with that degree of regularity and vigor which is essential to the well being of both body and mind, the liver, upon whose activity they are dependent for their due performance, must be kept in good working order. Calomel and blue pills, besides being hurtful mineral drugs, only partially and temporily rectify disorders or sluggishness of the great biliary gland. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, on the contrary, accomplish thoroughly what the above medicines fail in doing, and are besides a safe as well as potent remedy for the disorders of the stomach, bowels and organs of urination, as well as an unequalled general invigorant. They are, moreover, a sterling antidote to malaria.

Centennial Transportation Arrangements

OF THE

GREAT ATLANTIC COAST LINE

FOR

THE ACCOMMODATION OF VISITORS FROM ALL POINTS SOUTH.

The Railways and Steamship Companies between Augusta, Georgia, and Philadelphia, comprising the ATLANTIC COAST LINE, will during the progress of the Centennial Exhibition of United States, present for the patronage of the citizens of the South, routes of transportation and forms of tickets upon which to reach Philadelphia, that will immeasurably excel all other lines in point of

Direct Daily Movement,
Comfortable Accommodation,
Variability of Transit,
Economy of Expenditure.

To enable this to be done, the combined resources of the RAILWAY LINES SOUTH OF NORFOLK, together with those of the BALTIMORE STEAM PACKET COMPANY and the OLD DOMINION STEAMSHIP COMPANY will be employed and the individual TOURIST, the social party of ten, twenty or more, or the civic or military organization of 100 or 300, can each be cared for in a manner that will satisfy their desires.

Price Lists, Time Cards and all needful information are now in hands of all Agents of the ATLANTIC COAST LINE.

It will be the interest of every individual and each organization proposing to make this trip to communicate with the undersigned.

A Centennial Exhibition Guide Book as authorized by the Commission will be given to the purchaser of each Centennial Ticket.
